GERMANY A VOWS WAR ON 2 NATIONS

BELGIUM PUT ON FIRING LINE

Germany Challenges Belgians for Refusing Passage to French Frontier

ENGLAND EXPECTED TO ISSUE WAR DECLARATION

Mobilization of Army and Navy Complete—Belgium Busy With Preparations

LONDON, England, Aug. 4.—England is momentarily expected to declare war against Germany as an immediate issue of Belgian neutrality. British army and navy mobilization has been completed. The House of Commons voted $525,000,000 for emergency purposes. The cabinet is holding a continuous session. Immense crowds filled the streets after midnight, and the martial spirit seemed to be increasing.

Belgium has requested French and English alliances against Germany. Belgium Mobilizing

LONDON, Aug. 4.—Germany declared war today on Belgium for refusing permission for the passage of German troops en route to France. Complete Belgian mobilization was at once ordered.

Formal announcement of the proposed German invasion was made in the Belgian Parliament today. King Albert addressed a joint session of the legislators, accepting full responsibility for the situation which, he said, arose from his determination to maintain Belgian neutrality and national integrity. He asserted that "We will maintain them to the last drop of blood."

The declaration of war was announced formally by the Foreign Office here.

In response to queries from members of the House of Commons as to whether or not England had served an ultimatum on the Kaiser demanding the withdrawal of German troops from Belgium and Luxembourg, Premier Asquith admitted that he had "forcefully insisted" that Germany respect Belgian neutrality. He added that the Kaiser replied that he would do so. This, however, had failed to prevent a declaration of hostilities.

"The Kaiser told Belgium," Premier Asquith recited to the House of Commons, "that inasmuch as Belgium refused to facilitate the movements of German troops over its territory it became necessary to carry out its plans by force." The moment the premier ceased speaking a chorus of members demanded that England take steps to protect Belgian integrity.

Sweden to Be Neutral

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 4.—Swedish statesmen today refused to state what reply was made to German and Russian demands concerning Sweden's attitude. They declared Sweden was prepared to defend her neutrality.

Turkey to Mobilize

ATHENS, Aug. 4.—Turkey has ordered the mobilization of her army, "as a precaution," according to official announcement here.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The White House announced at noon that Congress will be asked to appropriate $2,500,000 to relieve Americans stranded abroad by the war situation. Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo will appoint disbursers of the fund.

A dispatch from Berlin states that the United Press Berlin bureau is besieged with American refugees clamoring for information whether or not the United States government is sending ships for them.

Servian Chief of Staff Arrested by Austria

The petty politics of the Austrian attack on Servia were illustrated in the arrest of Gen. Putnik, chief of staff of the Servian army, who was arrested at Graz, while he was making preparations to return to his country. He was in the Austrian town legally and he had committed no crime. But just as soon as he learned of the strained relations of the two countries he sought to return to take charge of the army of his native land.

THREE-CENT FARE AN ISSUE IN TOLEDO, OHIO

TOLEDO, O., Aug. 4.—A special election is in progress here today to decide on the proposed $8,000,000 bond issue for the purchase of the street railway system and its allied utilities—the power, gas and heating plants. Labor organizations are behind the project and the voting today followed a spirited campaign of preliminary appeals to the people. The street car company several months ago refused to lower its fares to three cents even though the city council so ordered. The council consequently held up the franchise grants and the controversy remains in litigation. The election today will either close or reopen the three-cent fare issue.

1914 total 7,305,845
1913 total before raise made 6,614,270
1913 total after raise 7,015,407

Yesterday afternoon City Assessor E. L. Vegely completed the 1914 assessment and turned his books over to City Clerk Burke, where they now are open to inspection by property owners.

Commencing next Monday the City Trustees will sit as the city Board of Equalization, to pass upon any petitions for changes of assessment that may be filed or to make any changes that the board may see fit.

Last year when the city assessor turned his books over the total was $6,614,270, a raise of $196,470 over the previous year. The Board of Equalization desired an advance in assessment so that more money might be raised for city purposes without making a raise in the tax rate of $1.20. A horizontal raise of ten per cent was ordered on all real estate. The real estate total of $4,011,370 was thus raised $401,137, and the total assessment of the city was thus raised to $7,015,407. Vegely's assessment on real estate this year is $174,398 in advance of the total of last year after the ten per cent raise was put on.

Declares War With France; Puts Blame of World War on Czar of Russia

Declares Russia Mobilized in Secret While Engaged in Peace Negotiations

BERLIN, Aug. 4.—Germany today issued a formal declaration of war against France. The foreign office issued a statement charging specific violations of the law of the frontier by French troops, and accusing French aviators of hurling bombs into unprotected cities, insisting that Germany has striven to keep the peace "despite French aggression."

The war session of the Reichstag was opened by the Kaiser in a speech from the throne, and the distribution of the "White Book," placing the responsibility of the European struggle on Russia. It contained all the anti-bellum correspondence of the Kaiser and the Czar.

The "White Book" charged that the Russian war minister, "sneakingly and by duplicity," broke the peace. When it became evident that Russia considered its interests endangered by the Austro-Servian clash, the Kaiser promptly offered his services as mediator. England, too, was declared to be anxious to prevent war. The Czar was assured by the Kaiser, the "White Book" maintained, that Austria had no idea of acquiring Servian territory. Replying, the book states, the Czar expressed a willingness to gladly accept the Kaiser's peace efforts, yet while negotiations were in progress, he was secretly mobilizing his troops. As a last effort to avert the war, the Kaiser personally telegraphed the Czar, the book said, as follows:

"I direct your attention to my promise to my dying grandfather always to foster the friendship of Germany and Russia, and urge you to recollect that I kept my promise during the Asiatic war."

Believed German Fleet Nearing Coast of England, Engages Britain's Fleet

Servians Defeat Austrians in Battle—Germans Ambush and Rout Cossacks

LONDON, Aug. 4.—Heavy firing at dawn was reported off the Yorkshire coast. The French fleet recently left Brest under sealed orders at about the same time the German fleet passed through the Kiel canal. It is believed here the two fleets were engaged.

The admiralty is seeking to confirm reports of the engagement from Scarborough and Flamborough head. The coast towns are in terror of the German landing. It is admitted in government circles that the German fleet is really close to the British coast. Admiral Von Tirpitz having outmaneuvered Admiral Callaghan, who was instructed to prevent its approach.

Austrians Defeated

The French minister at Servia has reported an Austrian defeat by the Servians. Three hundred Austrians were killed.

The minister failed to give the location of the battle, but it is believed to have been on either the Drina, the Danube or the Save river, since he mentioned that Austrian gunboats were supporting an attempted invasion. He said that Servian strategy had led the Austrians into a trap.

Skirmishing between the French and Germans occurred today at Mars-Etourt, and fighting was reported on the Luxembourg border. French aviators are pursuing a German dirigible which dropped bombs in the public square at Luneville, demolishing the fortifications and killing fifteen French soldiers.

Skirmishing between the French and Germans was continuous today at Bellfort and vicinity. French aeroplanes were active. Losses on both sides were slight.

BERLIN EXCITED OVER SUCCESS OF ARMS

French Press Forward to Meet Invaders—Great Battle Seems Near

England Expected to Join Anti-German Allies—Kaiser Would Resist World

BERLIN, Aug. 4.—The continued success of German activities on the Russian border are reported here; also that German lines are holding French outposts and reinforcements are pouring in through Belgium and Luxembourg. Crowds filled the streets of Berlin at midnight.

Skirmishing is in progress at several points along the German front on French soil. The French generally are pressing forward to meet the invaders. The line will be extended tonight from Longwy to Mars-Et-Tour. Thus far there have been no important meetings, but it seemed certain that a mighty big battle is near. The possible date of the battle cannot be forecast, but it will probably be delayed until one or the other's lines are complete. The expectation here is that England will join the anti-German allies within forty-eight hours.

The Kaiser has issued a statement that Germany will defend her honor against all the world if necessary.

All official utterances lay the blame for the strife upon Russia and France. Advice here tonight indicate that the French invasion of Lorraine failed, and that the troops are retiring.

That German troops are within one hundred miles of Warsaw, Russian Poland, was announced today by the War Office. No serious opposition has been met. Warsaw is strongly fortified, and a battle is expected there.

Cossacks Routed

POSEN, Germany, Aug. 4.—German infantry today ambushed and routed a detachment of Cossack scouts near Borzykowo. Five Russians were killed and twenty wounded by the first German volley. The Cossacks rallied and charged repeatedly, but finally fled in disorder. Twenty-five Cossacks in all are reported as killed and forty-one captured.

France Rushes to Defense

PARIS, Aug. 4.—Thousands of troops are being rushed by all available means toward the defense line north of the east frontier.

Six miles separate the opposing forces, according to fragmentary dispatches tonight.

Skirmishing is occurring, reports say.

It is estimated that before tomorrow night 2,000,000 men will face each other.

MEXICAN WAR FLAMING ANEW

Gen. Carranza Finally Refuses Amnesty to Adherents of Huerta Regime

MEXICAN CABINET AT ONCE PREPARES FOR WAR FUND

Rebels Advancing on Mexico With Forces Converging From Three Sides

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 4.—All indications pointed today to the continuation of fighting in Mexico. General Carranza announced his decision to refuse to guarantee the lives and property of the Huerta regime adherents. He also refused to treat further with President Carbajal's representatives. The Mexican Cabinet immediately began a session to devise means to raise war funds. Carbajal will be given complete command. Secretary of War Velasco issued the following statement:

"We have thirty-five thousand federal soldiers in Mexico City. Every man will remain loyal to the last."

Rebels Advancing

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 4.—It is reported that the revolutionists are slowly closing in on the capital from three points. General Jesus Carranza moved southward from Tepic del Rio Sunday. General Obregon, with 15,000 men, is at Acambaro, planning an advance through Toluca, and three train loads of Constitutionalists moved south from San Luis Potosi, toward Queretaro.

SALTILLO, Mex., Aug. 2 (via Laredo, Tex.), Aug. 4.—An advance on Mexico City of more than 70,000 well armed and equipped Constitutional soldiers was begun yesterday on orders from Gen. Venustiano Carranza, who is in command.

IRAPUATO, Guanajuato, Mex., Aug. 1 (via El Paso, Tex.), Aug. 4.—Gen. Olivar Obregon, commander of the division of the northwest, arrived here yesterday and his troops are mobilizing here for the movement on Mexico City.

This place is only 180 miles northwest of Mexico City. Obregon's forces probably will converge with those of General Carranza.

Irapuato was taken after heavy fighting.

RANCHER'S WIFE AND DAUGHTERS SAVE CROPS

WICHITA, Kan., Aug. 4.—Three daughters and the wife of Edward Harrington, living near Alva, Okla., helped save the family wheat crop when a dearth of harvest hands made the loss of much grain probable if cutting was deferred.

One of the daughters, eight years old, rode the lead horse on the binder, while the other girls, 14 and 15, shocked the grain. Harrington and his wife did the rest. Now, with all of the 139 acres cut and threshing under way, the Harringtons have begun a vacation.

WETS AND DRIES IN DEATH STRUGGLE IN OHIO CAMPAIGN

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 4.—The greatest "wet" and "dry" campaign ever staged in Ohio began in earnest today when the "dry" forces filed at the office of the secretary of state a proposed constitutional amendment abolishing the present county local option law, and establishing the township and municipality as the unit in future liquor legislation.

Lines are closely drawn and each side will put forth every effort in the fight for its life. The Anti-Saloon League has been at work tarring out its forces in every village in the state, and its chief opponents, divisions of the Personal Liberty League, have taxed every resource to stem the tide of temperance in Ohio. The question promises to have considerable bearing on, if it does not completely overshadow, the campaign for governor.

SLEEPER SHOVES COLLECTIONS AWAY UP

Five Times as Much Money Taken in This Year as in 1910

Today County Assessor James Sleeper made his monthly settlement with the county for personal property and poll tax collections, and a footing of his collections for the last year showed that the total collected by him is about five times what was collected by the assessor's office in 1910, the year before Sleeper took office.

The figures for the two years, for comparison, follow:

Personal Property	1910	1914
Taxes	$14,038.89	$113,778.15
Poll Taxes	13,596.00	17,808.00

Total $27,634.89 $131,586.15

The personal property collections are made by the county assessor when the assessment is made when the person or company assessed has no real property. One of the innovations established by Sleeper was the assessment of mineral rights on oil lands held in nearly every instance by a corporation. It was through that procedure that he bumped up against the Standard Oil Company, from which company Sleeper collected over $66,000 personal property taxes. The Standard protested against payment of $45,000 on the Emory lease, but the day that Sleeper took steps to attach the company's property in this county in order to compel the tax payment, the Standard sent word that the check would arrive the next day. It arrived. The personal property and poll tax collections are both greater this year than ever before in the history of the county.

WOMAN REFUSES OPERATION

Tells How She Was Saved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Logansport, Ind.—"My baby was over a year old and I bloated till I was a burden to myself. I suffered from female trouble, so I could not stand on my feet and I felt like millions of needles were pricking me all over. At last my doctor told me that all that would save me was an operation, but this I refused. I told my husband to get me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I would try it before I would submit to any operation. He did so and I improved right along. I am now doing all my work and feeling fine.

"I hope other suffering women will try your Compound. I will recommend it to all I know."—Mrs. DANIEL D. B. DAVIS, 110 Franklin St., Logansport, Ind.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, is it not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped any other woman who is suffering in a like manner?

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

On a hot summer day the temperature in the upper part of a building covered with J-M Asbestos Ready Roofing is from 15 to 30 degrees cooler than with any other roofing. The white asbestos surface reflects the heat instead of absorbing it and transmitting it to the rooms below.

This is only one of the exclusive features of J-M ASBESTOS ROOFING

Besides making a building cooler in summer and warmer in winter, it is the only ready roofing that never needs painting. J-M Asbestos is also the only ready roofing that is fire-proof.

FIRST UPSIDE DOWN FLIGHT IN U. S.

Thomas J. Hill in Successful
Feat Risked His Life to Protect Spectators

Los Angeles Examiner: After making the first successful upside down flight in a monoplane in this country at Venice last Sunday, Aviator Thomas J. Hill risked his life to protect the 10,000 spectators that had gathered on the beach.

Volplaning downward toward the strip of sand which seemed to offer a landing he found at the last moment that thousands had rushed to the spot to be near the landing. Realizing that many of them might be killed or injured he threw his machine back upward and out over the water, landing in the surf line. Life guards, rushing out, rescued both aviator and machine.

2000-Foot Dive
Two splendid demonstrations of an upside down flight, the first to be accomplished by a monoplane on this side of the Atlantic, were given by Hill. From an altitude of 2000 feet he shot straight downward for 2000 feet and then took the turn which placed him in an inverted position. He retained his course for half a minute and then turned upward, riding easily again.

TERRIFIC QUAKE SHOOK JAMAICAN CITY YESTERDAY

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Aug. 4.—The city of Kingston was shaken by an earthquake of terrific violence yesterday morning. The shock was of greater intensity than that of 1907, which practically destroyed the city and suburbs.

The disastrous circular motion of the previous seismic disturbance was, however, absent on the present occasion and so far as is known this evening no lives have been lost and no great damage has been caused. The earthquake did some damage in several towns, notably in Port Antonio.

COAST CITIES ARE TO CONTINUE ON THE GOLD BASIS

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 4.—Los Angeles bankers yesterday afternoon endorsed the action of the San Francisco Clearing House Association in declining to remain upon a gold basis, and officials of the local banking institutions expressed the opinion that not only is there no necessity for any uneasiness in Southern California, but declared the most prosperous era of many years will be enjoyed here in from sixty to ninety days.

This action, it is believed, will determine the action of all banks on the Pacific coast, which means, in brief, that there is plenty of gold, silver and currency to meet any demand, and that business will proceed just as though no war reports from Europe had been sent out.

PORT OF MONTREAL IS CLOSED FOR FIRST TIME

MONTREAL, Aug. 4.—The port of Montreal was virtually closed last night for the first time in its history. Yesterday a tug fleet patrolled the lower harbor and a force of 200 men was sworn in last night to exclude all landmen from the wharves. Sailors on vessels in port will be allowed to leave their ships only under escort. No vessel will be permitted to come into port or to leave without an express writ being granted. Five million dollars' worth of grain in the elevators has been placed under special guard.

Ship congestion already has begun. Three tramp steamers, which should have cleared Saturday, are still in dock. Twelve tramp vessels are on the way here for grain cargoes for continental ports.

GUN IN WAGON LOADED, BOY SHOT IN ARM

Hunters Laid Weapon in Rig
Without Taking Shell
From Barrel

FULLERTON, Aug. 4.—While Walter Schumacher, aged 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Schumacher of Placentia, was hunting six miles above the county park yesterday, he accidentally shot himself in the arm.

Young Schumacher was riding in a wagon with Frank Annin and Andrew Moody. The gun fell against something that caused one barrel to go off, the discharge entering Schumacher's left arm about two inches above the elbow. The young man was rushed a distance of several miles to the hospital at Anaheim in twenty minutes.

ORANGE PHANTOM SUPPER BY THE REBEKAHS

(By Staff Correspondent)
ORANGE, Aug. 4.—A "phantom" supper was the uniquely interesting feature introduced into a social gathering of the Rebekahs following their regular meeting last evening.

About forty were present and after the business of the evening was concluded each guest was given a slip of paper and directed to go to the dining room where the phantom supper was served.

Reaching the dining room the guests were rather put to it to find the "eats." They first discovered a pair of blue pointed pencils, a doll's trunk with clips on the lid, several wagon burrs with salt covering them, an old-style spinning wheel, some sand with a tiny witch in it, a goat, a piece of paper with several dates written on it, two morsels of bread sprinkled with sugar, a piece of paper with two letters "A's" drawn on it and two potatoes lying on them, two rulers laid side by side, a toy horse with a red flower by it, a walking stick sprinkled with sugar, an apple with several small saws, a post card picture of a fish with a number of steel bearings, and a picture of some cattle.

After some strenuous thought the guests were able to figure out the menu, a list of which follows in the order as listed above: "Blue points," Saratoga chips, salted nuts, spinach sandwich, butter, dates, sweet breads, lyonnaise potatoes, a pear, horse radish, sugar cane, apple sauce, fish balls, and beef.

The menu looks very good on paper but the guests could find but little nutrition from it, so the committee in charge took pity on them and served some real cantaloupe that had no "phantom" about it.

Servian Soldier to Fight Austro-Hungary

Here is the Servian soldier, who must fight one of the six great powers of Europe. There are not more than 240,000 of him, but there are more than 2,000,000 Austrians. He has seen war in the Turkish campaign, and those against Bulgaria, and individually he is perhaps more experienced than the Austro-Hungarian soldier. But there are more than a half dozen against him in the war his country is now engaged in.

KRONPRINZESSIN TURNS TAIL--RUNS TO BAR HARBOR, ME.

BAR HARBOR, Me., Aug. 4.—The German liner Kronprinzessin Cecilie, bearing millions in gold and which was supposed to be attempting to reach a German port, arrived here today.

Passengers on the liner said the ship received a wireless message to return to America when she was 800 miles off England. The same night the ship interrupted a message between French warships giving warning as to the liner's probable presence and ordering a look-out. A dance in progress aboard the liner was ordered stopped. Cargoes were stretched over the portholes, skylights and all upper lights were extinguished, and the ship ran westward through a dense fog without a siren blowing. The passengers were unaware of the ship's destination until it reached Bar Harbor. Scores of little craft surrounded the Kronprinzessin when it appeared.

A tablet to the late J. P. Boyne, "father of the button industry," was unveiled today. Among the prominent men here today were Hugh H. Smith, commissioner of fisheries; Senators Cummins and Kenyon and Congressmen Vollmer and Connolly. Secretary of Commerce Redfield was to be the chief speaker today.

DRINK MORE WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat Less Meat and Take Salts
for Backache or Bladder
Trouble

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys; they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble. Advertisement.

VERY STRONG AGAINST THE 8-HOUR LAW

Taxpayers' League of Orange County Opposes the Amendment

By a resolution passed at its meeting Saturday afternoon the Taxpayers' League of Orange county went strongly on record as opposed to the universal eight-hour proposal, which through initiative petition, is to be voted upon in California next November. The league meets on the first Saturday of each month, and it has been its practice to discuss one of the proposed amendments at each meeting. Saturday was given up largely to a discussion of the proposed universal eight-hour law.

The vote of the league was unanimous against the law. It was asserted that it would work out harmfully to the horticultural and agricultural interests of the state, and would be of particular damage to this county. It was pointed out that as the law now reads the expense of county government would be greatly increased, as night sessions of court and working overtime in rush periods would be prohibited and thus might necessitate increasing the force of employees.

D. G. Cole, secretary pro tem., was instructed to get in touch with other taxpayers leagues in the state and try to secure through them a concerted fight against the measure.

Nineteen new members were accepted by the league on Saturday. The meetings of the league are for members only.

DANGER ON STREETS AND HIGHWAYS

In spite of all that is said about careful driving of automobiles, only a few days one reads of children, and sometimes older people, who are run over in the streets or upon the highways. In large cities heavy truck wagons are also a cause of much fatal injury.

Various agencies are at work to compel drivers to maintain due vigilance. But laws and regulations are difficult to enforce. There are all kinds of human types at the steering wheel. Officers of the law do not always want to see too much.

On the street or in the middle of the road is not the safe place it used to be on foot. Before motors became numerous, the public highway was a kind of common playground. Drivers of horses waited tolerantly while the kiddies reluctantly suspended their ball game. The hoofs of an approaching horse gave warning long before a carriage was near. Now the motor slips up from behind with swift and deadly speed. While you are looking to the right, the machine has dodged out from some side street on the left.

Every child ought to be carefully warned of the dangers of the street, and every adult ought to bear these dangers ever in mind. On the streets or roads where there is any considerable traffic, no one should ever cross without looking both ways.

Many accidents could be saved if people were not in such a hurry. Some persons seem to dislike to show reasonable caution. It takes but a few seconds for a motor to pass, while a broken leg would mean a month on your back.

The manner in which some motorists expect every one to make way for them is irritating. Still, human nature is as it is. One must adapt oneself to modern conditions.

If the pedestrian gets too wrathful over the arrogance of his automobiling friends, he may very reasonably reflect that it is much easier for him to stop than it is to bring a heavy machine to a standstill. That, however, does not excuse the motorist, who should never run at a speed which he cannot check in time to prevent injury.

THE INITIATIVE IN MARRIAGE

The question, "Shall women propose?" has long been a favorite battleground in the lighter class of publications appealing to women. It is often discussed in a trifling way, but there is a real problem in it.

Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Gilman, a leader in the feminist movement, in a recent lecture in New York took the position that "it is eternally unnecessary for women to propose marriage," holding that women have a passive attraction sufficient to win men. But the woman movement is so rapidly unsettling old foundations that almost any reversal of custom seems possible.

The position of many unmarried women is anomalous. A girl may always have wished to have a husband and children to care for. She may believe that she is best fitted to that work. All her efforts in education may have been shaped toward that end. "Seek and ye shall find" is a universal principle. Yet the woman who seeks this one calling, considered most appropriate to women, is almost a social outcast.

The way the sexes pair off can be seen at dancing parties. Sparkling girls, fleet of foot and swift of tongue, are overburdened with invitations, while others, perhaps sweeter and more capable, sit around unasked.

In thousands of communities there is a surplus of charming women. The men with whom they should naturally mate are living in metropolitan boarding houses or in engineering camps or ranches. The present system of marriage does not bring them together.

The number of girls who have probably never been invited to enter the married state is probably much larger than is generally realized. If it is just as well that many women should not marry, there may be no great loss. But if marriage is to be considered a universal ideal for nearly all women the present engagement customs are working poorly.

Government of Japan

The government of Japan is not an absolute monarchy, the mikado being largely responsible to the parliament and, to a degree, to the people back of the parliament. Under the mikado is the house of peers, composed of the princes of the blood and the nobility and the representatives of the vested interests, and the house of representatives, which is made up of some 380 members, representing the masses of the people.—New York Journal.

Southern California Freight Bureau Will Bring Suit for Rebate

A resolution authorizing legal steps for the collection of back-haul charges under the recent order of the Interstate Commerce Commission was passed by the representatives of the Interior Counties Freight Bureau in a special conference held in San Bernardino yesterday. The action taken means that the bureau will file suit to gain all back-haul charges made during the last two years by railroads doing business in the county, including the shipper's organization. Litigation would have been averted had the general freight agents of the Santa Fe and the Southern Pacific kept their promise to meet a committee representation of the shippers in private conference there during the last two weeks.

The object of the conference was to bring about a co-operative settlement of all freight troubles existing between the roads and the shippers of Southern California, but a telegram received and reported before the conference stated that the traffic officials had found it impossible to visit San Bernardino at this time, but would call on the local committee at an early date. The bureau representatives did not like the treatment accorded the shippers in this matter and immediately passed the resolution requesting President George M. Cooley to ask the advice of the Interstate Commerce Commission to advise them how to proceed legally to collect back-haul charges due thousands of shippers in Southern California and the states in the western division.

J. C. Metzger, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, made a short talk before the conference, declaring that he thought it high time to take immediate legal action for collection of the back-haul charges. He was the official representative of Orange county for the conference. George M. Cooley was the official representative for San Bernardino county.

HAPPENINGS IN ROME

(By Henry Wood.)

LUCCA, Italy, Aug. 4.—In the years to come, the world at large may have various things to say and various interpretations to place on the life and actions of Princess Zita, future Empress of Austria, but to peasants of Tuscany, amongst whom she passed twenty of her twenty-two years of life, there will never be a change of opinion. For them Princess Zita will always be just as much of a saint as it is possible for a human being to be, a veritable daughter and successor of Saint Zita, patron saint of the city of Lucca, after whom, in fact, the Princess was named.

This was the universal sentiment poured out to the United Press correspondent when he visited the childhood home of Zita, following the assassination of Archduke Ferdinand and his wife, which made the Princess Zita and Karl Franz, her husband, direct successors to the throne of Austria. The life and antecedents of Princess Zita are strange indeed, but the peasants of Tuscany have memory only for her charity and piety.

F. P. Younglove, for Riverside county, and A. M. Ham for Imperial county. It is estimated that should the action of the Interior Counties Freight Bureau prove successful in collecting the extra charges that the roads will have to make a refund aggregating nearly twelve million dollars to shippers in the western division. It is believed by the bureau members that the roads will eventually make a peaceable settlement after they find out that the Interstate Commerce Commission will not back down when tasked to sustain its action of 1911 in authorizing an order to stop the collection of extra charges from terminal points.

President Cooley was authorized to hire a stenographer and begin active work to collect the charges from the roads. It is said the Interstate Commerce Commission will give early consideration to the bureau in this matter and it is practically certain that they will not refuse to sustain an order for which they fought two years in the Supreme Court to make legal.

The resolution follows: "We, the members of the Interior Counties Freight Bureau, authorize President George M. Cooley to communicate with the Interstate Commerce Commission and request that body to forward to him such blank forms as it may have to be used in filing claims against railway companies to obtain a refund of back-haul charges, together with such other information and recommendations as would further the interests of this association of shippers and be in accordance with the wishes of the commission in reference to all legal questions."

A large number of representatives were present and the vote for immediate legal action was unanimous. President Cooley will call a meeting as soon as he hears from the commission.

Princess Zita was born May 9, 1892, at the Villa delle Pianore in the province of Lucca near the famous Italian sea resort of Viareggio. Her father, Robert, retained the title of grand duke of Tuscany even if he didn't retain the dukedom the latter having been incorporated into the growing kingdom of Italy when the duke was only ten years old. His predecessors enjoyed also the titles of king of Hanover, duke of Brunswick, duke of Parma and king of Naples, but Robert didn't insist on these. Princess Zita's mother was the Infanta Maria Theresa of Portugal, youngest and handsomest of the six famous Braganza sisters, whose brother, Dom Miguel, a few years ago, married Anita Stewart of New York. Zita's mother was Duke Robert's second wife, and Zita was the thirteenth child, the duke having had eight children by his first wife and twelve by his second.

Of the former, only three, Princess Maria Theresa, Prince Elias and Princess Beatrice are normal. The other five are weak-minded. Although Duke

Robert insisted they should always remain under the parental roof, it was necessary for them to have constant attendance and surveillance.

Of the many qualities that went to endear Zita to the peasants of Tuscany, the most of them came admittedly from Duke Robert and his system of child training. He insisted always that his twenty children should be courteous and affable to everyone regardless of their station in life. Opportunity for cultivating these tastes were never lacking. Zita had seven younger brothers and sisters to be good to. In addition, Robert made his Villa delle Pianore, the last estate remaining to him of his kingdom and possessions in Italy, the home of dethroned royalty and exiled nobility generally. To these Princess Zita and her numerous brothers and sisters showed every kindness possible.

It thus came about that one of Zita's childhood companions was Boris, the present hereditary prince to the crown of Bulgaria. Czar Ferdinand, his father, wasn't Czar then, and was having a mighty hard time to establish his princely crown and kingdom. Boris was sent to Duke Robert for safety's sake. The little prince and Zita made mud-pies together on the shores of the Tyrrhenian sea. Boris always insisted that Zita was the best, if not the only real playmate, that he ever had.

Zita's charities amongst the Tuscan peasants began almost with her footsteps. The name her father gave her is declared to have had great influence on her character. As a tiny tot she set out to be worthy of the saint for whom she was named. She had a handsome allowance, almost every penny of which she spent on charities. She distributed it all personally, frequently visited the poorest homes in times of sickness and need. Few who live at or near Lucca do not personally know Zita, who will be the Empress at the rigidly formal Austrian court. Zita's marriage to the Austrian heir was the result of a real love match. She is an extremely devout Catholic, and when her engagement was announced one of her first acts was to hurry to the shrine of her patron saint and offer up a votive candle in grateful devotion. As soon afterwards as she could she hastened to Rome for the pope's blessing.

Princess Zita, with all her loveliness and sweetness is very proud. She is very intimate with the daughters of the German Kaiser, and is beloved not only by the people who will be her subjects, but also by her friends who are of her own class. She is of Italian origin and prefers to speak Italian.

Demolition of First Sky Scraper
There has recently been demolished, to make way for a larger structure, a ten-story tower building, at 60 Broadway, New York City. The building was erected in 1889 and has been in service for a quarter of a century. Naturally the condition of its framework was a matter of interest for architects and engineers. The frame consisted of cast iron columns and wrought iron floor beams. The floors were of flat-arch, terra cotta construction. The framework was found to be in excellent condition, the wrought iron beams showing a practical absence of rust, and the cast iron columns, with a three-inch cast iron shell round them for fire protection, showing only a few localized patches of rust and heavy rusting only at a few special points.—Scientific American.

Safety Chain Foils Burglar
A door fastened with the ordinary door chain, which is often relied on as an additional protection against thieves, is easily picked by the skillful use of a big gimlet and a piece of stout wire. A hole is bored through the door immediately above the chain, the wire, properly bent, is inserted and the button at the end of the chain is moved in the slot by twisting the wire like a key. If the slotted casting is put on obliquely, says Popular Mechanics, at an angle of about forty-five degrees, so that the chain must be not only slid back but raised in order to get it out of the slot, it cannot so readily be tampered with.

CALIFORNIA OIL PRODUCTION

(From the Los Angeles Financial News.)

Every day during the month of June the 5954 producing petroleum wells in California poured into pipe line, storage tanks and miniature lakes the enormous aggregate of 314,395 barrels of oil, the production for the month exceeding all others in the history of the industry in the state, the total production for the month amounting to 9,431,863 barrels. The daily production was greater than the entire production of oil in California in the years 1876-1882 both inclusive, for there was 16,000 barrels daily shut in during the month of June. The record is astonishing even to oil men. For the six months of the current year ended June 30 the production of petroleum in the state reached the enormous aggregate of 52,879,422 barrels, a daily average for the period of 292,153 barrels. The figures of production follow:

Month	No. Barrels	Daily Avg. Barrels
January	8,736,888	281,835
February	7,943,638	257,700
March	8,941,024	288,432
April	8,669,622	282,967
May	9,156,987	295,386
June	9,431,863	314,395
Total	52,879,422	292,153

This great output is, with the exception of one year, more than double the output of any year in Pennsylvania from the discovery of oil there in 1859 down to the present. It is also a greater production than Oklahoma ever produced in one year with the exception of the calendar year 1913. It is more than the entire production of Kentucky, Tennessee, Colorado and Wyoming since the discovery of oil in those states and is more by four million barrels than the total production in Kansas. The output for California for the current year will exceed that of 1913 by approximately 7,500,000 barrels.

Shipments in June amounted to 8,816,610 barrels, the output being 615,253 barrels less than the production, the stocks on hand at the end of the month amounting to 52,248,329 barrels, an increase of 340,377 barrels as compared with stocks at the end of May. Shipments for the first six months of the year and the stocks on hand at the close of each month follow:

Month	Shipments Stock on Hand Bbls.
January	8,239,363 49,305,500
February	7,354,496 51,950,967

March	8,867,052	51,254,029
April	8,705,553	51,217,508
May	8,406,543	51,967,352
June	8,816,610	52,248,329

Total 50,479,527

It will be seen from these figures that the production for the six months ended June 30 has exceeded the output by 1,768,812 barrels.

In field work 46 wells were completed in California during the month of June, the largest number in the Midway Sunset field. The total number of producing wells at the end of the month was 5754, and the total number in the United States on that date was 195,315. Here follow the figures of field work for California during June. They are according to statistics prepared by the Independent Oil Producers' Agency.

Field	Rigs Completed During Month	Drilling	Completed During Month	Abandoned	Producing	Production for Month
Kern River	5	2	1,228			616,712
McKittrick	2	1	248			345,162
Midway-Sunset	64	23	1,341			4,657,277
Lost-Hills-Belridge	10	4	662	1	242	396,445
Coalinga	1	19	6			1,375,127
Lompoc-Santa Maria	4	28	1			472,343
Ventura Co.-Newhall	4	2	1			85,000
Los Angeles-Salt Lake	7	76	1	597		231,108
Whittier-Fullerton	1	1	531			1,206,742
Summerland	1	1		125		4,950
Total	22	218	46	6	5,754	9,431,863

As said the oil shut in during the month of June was 16,000 barrels per day or 480,000 barrels for the month. This great quantity was held down largely by the Associated Oil Company, the California Oil Fields, Ltd., subsidiary of the Royal-Dutch-Shell combination and the Independent Oil Producers' Association. Despite this shutting in of petroleum gushers continue to be brought in, the American Oil fields during the current month bringing in its No. 4 well on Section 22, 12-23, Maricopa district with an initial flow of 20,000 barrels per day, while the wonder well of the Lake View No. 2 Oil Company on the same section is spouting 30,000 to 35,000 barrels per day.

CITY TALKLETS

"I have absolutely no complaint to make in regard to business," said T. A. Alexander, manager of the Rossmore Hotel, today. "Santa Ana is 'good' and, although this is the dull season of the year I have no trouble in keeping my rooms filled. The tourist business is good in spite of the fact that road conditions are not exactly what they might be, owing to paving being done in various sections."

"The bean crop in Orange county promises to be the biggest of any so far recorded," said W. C. Jerome, today. "The present warm weather is extremely favorable for the plants. Even though some days may be a trifle hot the nights are always cool and this tends to bring out the best growth of the beans. The outlook for good prices is splendid. Beans have gone up 25 cents on the 100 pounds in the last week."

Big Hands Saved Him

Attorney John Cronin was appearing for a client charged with picking a pocket. The government's chief witness had evidently read detective fiction. He described at length how he, standing quietly by, had seen the prisoner slip a slim fingered hand into the victim's pocket. He described the perfectly manicured hand and tapered fingers of the alleged pickpocket's hand minutely, just as it goes in a detective yarn.

Then Attorney Cronin opened his defense. "My defense consists of 'Exhibit A.' Mr. Prisoner, hold out your hands." The prisoner, a six-foot man, did so, showing the jurors a pair of huge hands with gnarled fingers, which would have done justice to a bricklayer.

"The witness called those fingers long and tapering, gentlemen," said Cronin. "Now I want you to look at them and tell me if you think that hulking chap could get hands like those in the subway, let alone a person's pocket."

The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.—Boston Traveler.

Norah was putting her doll to bed—incidentally delaying the bleak hour of her own retirement. She laid doll down and took her up again until nurse grew impatient. At last, seeing doom imminent, she made effective play of removing doll's pillow.

"Why do you do that?" asked nurse, amused above her natural provocation.

"You don't suppose I want my little girl to grow up round-shouldered, do you?" exclaimed Norah, echoing the wise remark of an athletic aunt.

Cunning Thieves in Mexico

Americans in Mexico have doubtless gained some experience of the lepero, reputed to be one of the smartest and most impudent thieves in the world. Brantz Meyer tells of an English traveler who, within an hour or two, in the principal streets of Mexico, had first his hat hooked from his head by a line from an upper window, and was then accosted by three leperos who divested him of his coat. The three bade him wait, and within a few minutes one returned and handed him a pawn ticket.

"We wanted $30, not the coat," he explained. "Here is the ticket with which you can redeem it for that sum."

Publication in Old Rome

Some publishers in ancient Rome could turn out books rapidly and cheaply. A publisher of the Augustan era produced 1,000 copies of the second book of Martial in ten hours and these sold at about twelve cents apiece, gave him a profit of 100 per cent. This was done by employing slaves carefully trained to write swiftly and legibly. Working in batches of 100, with an overseer dictating the book in hand, the task was completed in a very short time. As soon as the copies were written they were revised, corrected, rolled up and bound. Being slaves, the men required only maintenance from their master, and thus he could afford to sell the productions at a very low rate.

Some Useful Hints

Perfumed olive oil sprinkled on library shelves will prevent mold on books; mud stains can be removed from black cloth by rubbing with a raw potato; the juice of a raw onion applied to the sting of an insect will remove the poison.

To Improve Pie Crust

To improve the top crust of pie I have found the following very good: Brush it over with water and then sprinkle with granulated sugar. This improves the appearance and makes it brown and crisp.

SUNRISE

Magnificent The morning rose, in memorabile pomp.
Glorious as e'er I had beheld—in front.
The sea lay laughing at a distance; near,
The solid mountains shone, bright as the clouds,
Grain-tinctured, drenched in empyrean light;
And in the meadows and the lower grounds
Was all the sweetness of a common dawn—
Dews, vapors, and the melody of birds,
And laborers going forth to till the fields.

"Y" Open Air Meeting

The J. S. House home on Lyon street was the scene of merriment and mutual enjoyment last night when the border line separated Santa Ana and Tustin was used as a coming-together place for the "Y's" of both places.

The formal opening of the meeting with the singing of stirring songs was delayed beyond the usual hour that ample time might be spent in getting acquainted.

A canopy of palms and magnolias with electric light and Japanese lights illumined the beautiful grounds.

Many were present both from Tustin and Santa Ana.

The subject for consideration was "Summer Recreation and Physical Culture." Miss Esther Fluor spoke on the first-named subject and told how the vacation season can be made profitable. "Sometimes," she said, "it is more profitable to take a complete rest from physical or mental duties, while to some persons merely a diversion is quite necessary to give needed recreative power."

Ellis House gave several useful hints in regard to physical culture.

Chas. Martin, who having experience with the position met with at the State University in regard to the present dry campaign, gave an excellent talk on the subject.

The former superintendent, Mrs. G. P. Hill, was present and gave a short instructive talk.

In the close of the meeting delicious refreshments were served and lively games indulged in, thus ending a most enjoyable evening.

Infection and Insect Bites Dangerous Mosquitoes, flies and other insects which breed quickly in garbage, pools of stagnant water, barns, musty places, etc., are carriers of disease. Every time they bite you, they inject poison into your system from which some dread disease may result. Get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment. It is antiseptic and a few drops will neutralize the infection caused by insect bites or rusty nails. Sloan's Liniment disinfects Cuts, Bruises and Sores. You cannot afford to be without it in your home. Money back

Nature Looms Large on an East Side Hot Night

(By Carleton Ten Eyck)

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—A street full of frowny bedraggled men and women, of countless babies with limbs and bodies uncovered shamelessly to the faint slants of moonlight that penetrated down through a fetid stinking atmosphere, of mothers cramped on curbstones, on boxes, or in doorways like dejected Magdalens, of red-faced or white-faced men, their heads unrolled back as with sleepless eyes they pleaded for the breeze that seldom comes—

The East Side on a hot summer's night. You may have seen it. If you have, you probably went home with contentment in your heart for your own lot, no matter how mean a lot it was. Every citizen of the United States ought to see this great East Side. He'll appreciate the more why the Mafia exists, why there are bomb throwers, and why with misery comes crime.

A hot night means lives lost on the East Side. It is incomprehensible why East Side babies live anyway. They can't sleep indoors these hot nights. Their mothers take them out to the sidewalks. They are bedded in the mother's arms, on two chairs, in a box—anywhere. The street is alive with them. A mother, clad above the waist in a single garment, that leaves her arms bare from the shoulder calmly nurses her youngster in the flickering gaslight. A four-year-old boy, cherubic despite his dirty face and hands, plays happily clad in an all too short little shirt.

The men, most of them worn by manual labor or long hours in city stores, lie prostrate on the sidewalks, in the doorways, or else pillow their heads and bodies on bedding on the me-escapes. A pushcart wends its way silently through this City of Dreadful Night—silently that the sleepers may not be disturbed, but not for business. For it seems that the East Side always eats. Some one will spend a few pennies for queer foreign sausages, or for sticky fruits, or defy germs in a sweetish, sickly looking lemonade. A few of the men will sit on the curbstone near the corner family saloon and quaff huge goblets of beer. All is very quiet, considering that there are hundreds on the street. In the shadow of a stoop a mere girl and a boy will be wooing, in full sight of all neighbors. They marry young on the East Side. There is scant chance for quiet tete-a-tetes.

It is midnight, but the groups on the streets are unchanged. An occasional wagon rattles along, the driver cautiously wending his way. The tired women grouped over their babies, muttering terms of endearment in a babel of foreign tongues, do not look up. The little grocery store closes up—that is, its light goes out, but the proprietor, his breast bared, lies in the doorway, seeking sleep. Some wakenful children roll a milk can along the street. Its clanging echoes rouse a hundred sleepers and there is a momentary outburst of foreign oaths and a whimpering of the children over their punishment. Then quiet again. Everywhere is the sinking breath of the steamy streets, littered with paper and rubbish of every description.

The night goes wearily on. The sleepers occasionally awaken, talk wearily, stretch their cramped limbs, and seek repose again. In one doorway five children lay all but naked, and curled together in a mass of legs and arms—the street lamp shedding a radiance into their eyes. But they sleep just the same. The saloons close. Nearly all lights are out—not only because lamps and gas are hot, but also because their burning costs money.

A sight-seeing automobile rounds the corner, the gears grinding. Men and women of another world, chatter and point out the "sights"—the dejected women, twisted in attitudes of exhaustion, and the babies and the slatternly men. For the most part they laugh and joke about the babies' nakedness and the women complain about the smells. The East Side tolerates them. There is no place else to go but the streets and "rubber-neck wagons" are part of the night. They return the curious stares with curious ones, if they are awake. If not, they sleep on.

One o'clock comes—two o'clock, and on. Then dawn penetrates the dingy streets, shed a gaily light over the drawn faces of the sleepers. They awaken. Another day has come. And another night will come later.

OSTEOPATHS MEETING IN ANNUAL SESSIONS

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4.—The eighteenth annual convention of the American Osteopathic Association opened here today at the Bellevue-Stratford with 3,000 delegates in attendance. Mayor Blankenburg of Philadelphia extended the official welcome for the city, and Governor Tener performed the same office as head of the state government. Dr. Percy H. Woodall of Birmingham, Ala., president of the association, presided.

The two most important events of the week's session came today. The first was a report of the work of the research institute by the director, Dr. John Deason, of Chicago, who announced the first successful results of a number of experiments performed in the laboratory showing that displacement of vertebrae in particular portions of the spine produced certain definite internal diseases, and that their replacement resulted in effecting a cure. The other event of interest was the demonstration of the new cure for catarrhal deafness by means of finger surgery in the throat by Dr. James E. Edwards of St. Louis.

Other papers were read today by Dr. T. J. Ruddy of Los Angeles, Dr. H. F. Goetz of St. Louis, Dr. C. W. McCurdy of Philadelphia, Dr. R. G. Emery of Los Angeles, Dr. C. E. Murtart and Dr. W. S. Nicholl of Philadelphia, Dr. J. A. DeTienne of Brooklyn, Dr. Joseph Ferguson of Middletown, N. Y.; Dr. J. E. Foster of Butler, Pa., and Drs. L. B. Dinsmore and A. L. Galbreath of Oakland, Ill.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

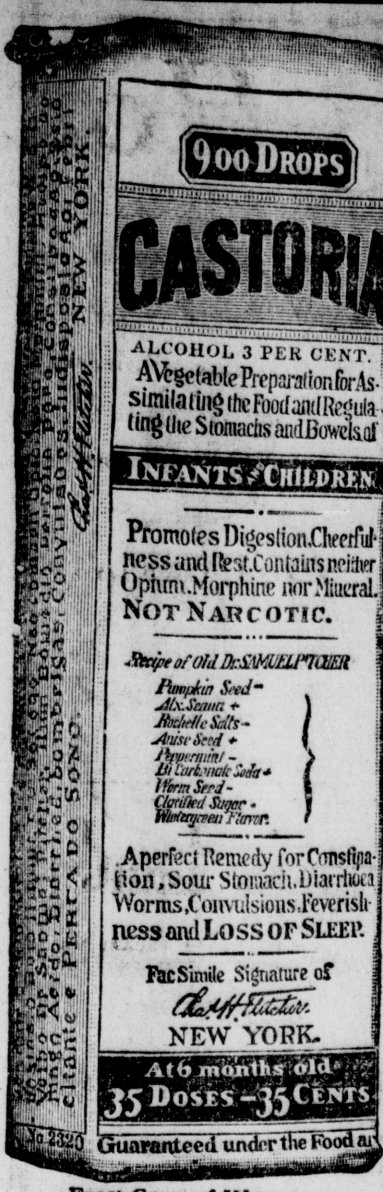

The price on wheat and flour was advanced yesterday morning by the local millers. This rise was due whether war had been declared or not, and comes largely as the result of a heavy demand. The new quotation on wheat makes it $38 a ton, which is considerably less than was asked yesterday morning in Chicago on this cereal. There is a shortage of bran, and this is bringing the quotation to $35 a ton on that product. It was expected last week that the harvest of the grain crop through the Middle West would reduce prices, but the arising troubles will probably bring no lower quotations for some time to come. Corn is up a few cents in advances. There is a heavy supply of California grain in the San Joaquin and other valleys, and as far as possible this will be held in the state to guard against an absolute shortage. Egg receipts were 264 cases, and the market stayed at 28½ cents. Last year at this time the egg market was up to 32 cents, which shows a decided difference, due somewhat to production locally, and more to the fact that Eastern arrivals have continued later than usual, and the Northern supply is adequate for all needed here. Butter declined to 24 cents a pound.

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it. Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

CITY

V. L. Steward Resigns and
C. C. Bonebrake Gets Appointment

OBJECTION MADE TO
TESTS ON ASPHALT

Committee is to Consider
Re-Numbering and Re-Naming

Santa Ana has a new city engineer. He is C. C. Bonebrake of Orange. He succeeds V. L. Steward, whose resignation was received and accepted by the City Trustees last night.

Steward's reasons for resigning were not stated. City Clerk Burke read the resignation, and by motion the board declared the office vacant. The clerk then read the application of C. C. Bonebrake, which application had been filed with him. It stated that Bonebrake had served Orange as city engineer and for a number of years he was county surveyor of a county in Kansas.

Grubb stated that in his conversation with Bonebrake he offered to take the position for $125 a month, he to be allowed two assistants at $2.50 a day.

"This is all a surprise to me," said Frank Ey, president of the board. "You folks seem to have the thing in hand all fixed up and cut and dried. The city engineer is a close neighbor of mine down-stairs, but I never heard a word of his resigning."

A motion appointing Bonebrake was carried.

Protest Entered

Attorney H. J. Forgy stated that for M. L. Huberman he desired to protest against the condemnation of a shipment of asphalt made to Contractor Huberman. He said that City Chemist Bovee had found the penetration to be seventy-three degrees. The specifications put the maximum at seventy. Forgy asserted that the asphalt should not have been condemned.

demned, as the specifications say that the asphalt test shall be for asphalt "when in use." He said Bovee got his samples from the barrel and that it would have been three or more degrees less if the test had not been made until the material was in use. Furthermore, Forgy said that there are two standards of tests, the Canadian and the New York, and that there are several degrees difference in the results. He contended that with such a slight difference that Huberman ought to be allowed to use the asphalt.

Some of the difficulties that the city has had in its tests were gone over. A Los Angeles chemist named Brown was present to uphold Forgy's position. No action was taken last night, and the matter was deferred until Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock for further discussion.

Some Suggestions

Secretary Waldrem of the Board of Underwriters, of Los Angeles, was before the board on invitation. Yesterday he met with the committee that is considering the bids for a fire engine, and while here he was asked what changes he would advise for the betterment of fire protection. He said that when the city puts in larger mains, as it will do in years to come, he would advise 8-inch hydrants. He favored a combination of hose and pump engine. He said that Santa Ana ought to have more men on the fire pay roll steadily. He thought fifteen about right, but had no idea it could be afforded. The building ordinance should be revamped, an electrical ordinance passed, and a fire marshal created and given authority to enforce his demands.

Let It Remain

On committee recommendation, it was decided that north and south streets of the Polytechnic Villa tract may have an extra six feet of parking, but east and west streets must conform to the streets to the east.

Health Officer Clark reported that there is nothing insubstantial about Huberman's asphalt plant on Stafford street. McPhee and Greenleaf stated that the plant is on a railroad reservation in an industrial district and they did not see that it should be moved. These reports were adopted as the decision of the board on the petition of property owners asking that the plant be moved.

Must Haul Beets

C. F. Hill called attention to the fact that the interests of beet growers should be kept in mind in paving West Fifth. The Santa Ana Co-Operative has a dump at the P. E. to take the product of 400 acres. Grubb said he did not want to hold up the paving any longer than was necessary. McPhee said it would be a calamity not to let the beet growers to the dump. Ey said that A. J. Crookshank of the sugar company thought the street should not be paved until November. A committee is to investigate, and if possible provide a by-pass to the dump, or get the beets harvested early.

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR
Bling Back Its Color and Lustre
With Grandina's Sage
Tea Recipe

Common garden Sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff; stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

seemed inclined to be peeved because no action has yet been secured from the P. E. toward paving the P. E. strip across Second and Pine streets. It was brought out that a month ago the board passed a motion to give the P. E. ten days in which to do the paving with the city would do it and charge it up to the P. E. City Attorney Heathman was reported not to have seen anything of the ten day limit, and did not notify the P. E. of that stand of the board. He said he asked for an automatic signal at First street, but some of the citizens there objected to any automatic signal with a gong. The P. E. replied that ninety-five per cent of the efficiency of a wig-wag is in the gong.

Grubb moved that the "city attorney again write and ask for a wig-wag without any curtailment, and that the city attorney again be instructed to give the ten-day notice to the P. E."

Alderman said that the nuisance of a noisy signal should be considered, as such a noise would be a detriment to property. He said that a waving disc in daytime and a red light at night should be sufficient. A motion to ask for an automatic without the gong was lost. Alderman and McPhee voting yes. Grubb's motion to ask for a wig-wag signal, gong and all, carried.

On McPhee's motion, the city attorney was instructed to forthwith give the P. E. the ten day notice for paving on Second and Pine streets.

Grubb reported that West Pine street is in fairly good condition. A kick on it was investigated by him and Alderman.

Bids Received

Bids for alfalfa and barley hay and rolled barley were received as follows, and referred to committee: R. R. Smith, alfalfa $12 a ton, barley $13, rolled barley $1 per 100; H. G. Meyer, alfalfa $12, barley $12; Prince, alfalfa $13, barley $13; A. N. Zerman, alfalfa $12.75 delivered, rolled barley $24 a ton; Perkins Bros., alfalfa $12; Louis Robinson, barley $12; E. W. Hogue, barley, $9.25.

Bids for city advertising were received from the Blade and Register and for city printing from the Blade, Register and Worden Printing Co. The Blade, which has had the advertising for the past year, again had low bid, fifty-four cents an inch first insertion, forty cents per insertion for subsequent insertions. Bids were referred to committee of Alderman, McPhee and Grubb.

English Language

The proposed new traffic ordinance was read by the city clerk. The ordinance provides that an automobile must keep its right side to the curb, and the inside wheels must be within eighteen inches of the curb when the car is stopped. The ordinance as read provided that vehicles must stop "within at least ten feet" of any electric railway car taking on or discharging passengers.

Alderman's analytical ear caught the "within ten feet at least," and straightaway he said there was something wrong with the language, as twelve or fifteen feet from the car would be guilty of a misdemeanor. City Attorney Heathman looked the language over, and concluded it was what was wanted. Alderman again declared it was not what was meant, and as worded was ridiculous. Then the wording was changed to read "not nearer than ten feet." As amended the ordinance was adopted.

Bids For Paving

The clerk was instructed to advertise to receive bids on August 17 for paving under private contract West Fifth street from Artesia to the city limits, the base to be four inches and the surface an inch and a half.

On committee recommendation, it was decided to make no change in the method of handling road oil.

Ey was appointed a committee to ask the supervisors to repair the county road at the east end of the Seventeenth street bridge.

A petition to sidewalk Durant from Washington to Seventeenth was referred to the street committee.

Action on Crandall's private contract for paving Chestnut from the P. E. to Halladay and Hewitt's contract for paving from Main to the P. E. was referred.

For Re-numbering

E. G. Huntington presented a petition with 300 names asking that the houses of the city be re-numbered. In his remarks Huntington said the business men are unanimous in their confidence in the board. Alderman, McPhee and Grubb were named as a committee to devise a plan for the re-numbering of house numbers and for correcting the names of streets.

Health Officer Clark was given a two weeks leave of absence.

Reports from the health officer and the Board of Health recommended that sewers be laid on East Fourteenth street and on D near Fruit. The matter was referred to the committee on sewers. The reports stated that the old shack at D and Fruit had been ordered cleaned up. The city attorney said he had given an opinion that the city would have to pay for the work ordered by the board of health.

City Attorney Heathman said he had seen W. H. Zimmerman and that Zimmerman refused to put down a sidewalk on his property on Orchard. Ed. Waite stated that everyone else has agreed to sidewalk. On motion, notice was given to all to have sidewalks laid within thirty days, at the end of which time Vrooman Act proceedings will be started.

A plumber's license was issued to M. D. Keeney and an electrician's license to the Bungalow Fixture Co. Steps were ordered taken to abandon the part of Garney street between parts of the water works property.

A light was ordered in at Broadway and Cubbon and an arc light at Third and Spurgeon.

WISCONSIN LIBRARY SCHOOL OPENED TODAY AT MADISON

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 4.—The Wisconsin Library School opened today with two courses offered. The first course offers instruction in legislative, municipal and special library work, and is intended to give preliminary knowledge of classification, cataloging and reference work. The second course offers a "kindergarten instruction" to those who have never had the regular course in library science. No students are admitted to this course excepting those holding positions in Wisconsin libraries.

Pictorial Hint

On the retirement of a rich manufacturer, who had been consistently stinky in his business career, his workmen presented him with an illuminated address, smartly designed by one of their number.

He was obviously touched by the gift, and acknowledged it in a neat little speech.

But there's one thing about it I can't quite understand," he added. "What does that little sketch in the corner represent?"

"That's a picture of you giving your workmen a supper," the artist explained.

"But I never did such a thing in my life!"

"I know that, sir, and my mates said you never would; but I thought I'd put it in, just to give you a sportin' chance of provin' 'em all wrong."

The chance was taken, and the farewell supper was a great success.

UNITED STATES NEUTRAL IN WAR

President Signs Proclamation
Today—Japan Will Aid
England on Pacific

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—President Wilson today signed a proclamation of American neutrality in the European war.

The neutrality proclamation forbids enlistment of troops in America, the accepting of commissions, or enlistment in the armies involved.

Representative Harrison today introduced a bill to prohibit readmission into the United States of aliens who leave it to fight in a foreign war.

$75,000,000 Emergency Fund

The Treasury Department announced that $75,000,000 in emergency currency had been distributed in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and St. Louis banks.

The House passed the amendments to the bank law, extending the currency issues to 125 per cent of the capital and surplus of banks and trust companies in the federal reserve system, thereby making more than one billion dollars available for circulation. The Senate approved, and the amendments were sent to the president.

The message asking $2,500,000 appropriation to relieve Americans abroad was sent to Congress today by President Wilson.

Japan to Aid England

SEATTLE, Aug. 4.—A Tokio dispatch to the Seattle Sun said that if England is drawn into the European war, Japan will fight England's battles in the Orient and protect the British ports in India and elsewhere on the Pacific. Japan is feeling the worldwide financial stress. Exchanges are closed. It was officially announced that the war will not affect Japan's exhibit at the San Francisco exposition.

EX-BANDIT IS IN NOMINATION FIGHT

Al J. Jennings Seeking to Be
Governor of Oklahoma;
Unique Campaign

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 4.—Banditry and the badger game have figured spectacularly in the political race which ended its first lap in the state-wide primaries today. If Al J. Jennings, former bandit, wins the nomination for governor, and Senator T. P. Gore, the blind statesman, who successfully defended himself from Mrs. Bond's assault charge, wins a re-nomination, two of the most unique political campaigns in the history of America will have been successful.

Jennings has been running on a "beating back" platform. Gore repeatedly has been forced to refer to Mrs. Bond's unsuccessful $50,000 damage suit for an alleged assault in a Washington, D. C., hotel. Badger game, Gore has called it. Samuel W. Hayes, former chief justice of the Supreme Court, is the blind senator's opponent in the primaries. In the gubernatorial race opposing Jennings are Charles West, attorney general; Robert L. Williams, Supreme Court justice; F. E. Herring, merchant; Robert Dunlop, state treasurer; and J. B. R. Robertson, former Supreme Court justice. John Fields, Republican nominated in convention several weeks ago, is unopposed. J. T. Hickman is the only Bull Moose candidate for governor.

For the state offices there are more than 200 candidates in all. Seven present congressmen are in the congressional race today, and in the Fifth district two congressmen were opposing each other by virtue of a gerrymander passed in the last Legislature assembling their districts. This pair are Joe B. Thompson Democratic congressman-at-large, and Claude Weaver, congressman from the Fifth district under the old district plan. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray is a candidate for re-nomination in the Third district; C. D. Carter in the Fourth, Scott Ferris in the Sixth, and D. T. Morgan in the Eighth. Morgan is the only Republican. All are opposed by several candidates.

RUSSIANS AGREE TO U. S. MARRIAGE LAWS

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 4.—Asserting that the wrong translation had been made of their communication to Superior Judge Wilbur from the Russian to English, E. M. Shubin, Russian attorney, yesterday declared that it was the intention of the Russian colony to observe American marriage laws.

TEMECULA DISTRICT IS SEEKING $10,000 SCHOOL

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 4.—The Temecula Union School District, formed in February by the joining of the Pujol and Santa Gertrudes Districts, is advertising a school election for August 27, at which the people will be asked to vote $10,000 in bonds for the purchase of school grounds and the erection upon them of a union school.

R.R. ARBITRATION AGREEMENT SIGNED

Representatives of 55 Roads and 55,000 Employees
Respond to Appeal

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Representatives of ninety-eight western railroads and their 55,000 trainmen today signed a formal agreement to arbitrate their wage dispute. The findings will probably be reported on January 1.

This action prevented what threatened to be one of the most extensive transportation strikes the country has seen.

Chairman Chambers of the Board of Mediation at once began preparations for bringing the dispute to arbitration and the railroad managers and the labor leaders left the city.

The President's Appeal

The president had written the railroad managers, saying:

"In view of world-wide conditions, unparalleled in recent history, which have arisen within the last few days, it is obvious that the suspension of business on roads serving more than half the territory of the United States would be a calamity of incalculable magnitude. The situation has reached a crisis which hardly permits a full consideration of the merits of the controversy, and I feel that in the circumstances I can appeal with confidence to your patriotism and to your regard for the public welfare to make whatever sacrifice is necessary to avert a national disaster."
